

Review of: "A Case Study of the Management Information System in the Coffee Industry in SW Ethiopia"

Priscila Silva Miranda¹

¹ Universidade Estadual Sudoeste da Bahia

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In the abstract part, it needs to be reformulated, addressing the objective, methodology and showing the main findings of the work.

The figure must be described in the text, and the source from which it was obtained must also be included.

The article contains only a literature review. No research methodology was mentioned, or sampling procedure for collecting such cited data.

A discussion should be included in the article that includes reference to others.

In the conclusion, you should only say the final considerations of the work, it should not have citations and new statements.

In general, the text needs improvement, and reviewing how a research article is structured