This article focuses on the role of artificial intelligence in education, what are the intended benefits of using technology in developing the educational process, and how this will contribute to the role of the teacher.

I think It would be better if the author replace Figure 1 with an illustration that shows the importance of artificial intelligence in education and how it contributed to the development of the educational process instead of mentioning the different sciences and fields.

In Section 4, it is preferable to include a summarizing table that shows the benefits and limitations rather than a lengthy narrative.

It would be more suitable if the author replace his related references with references to other researchers, as this will help prove the relevant results of the article and strengthen the evidence.

Finally, in order to clarify the important points in the research better and more accurately, it is better to separate the discussion section from the conclusion section.
