Thank you for the study and an important topic especially after coming out of COVID-19.

Please find my comments to make this article better and stronger.

Abstract: Can be structured accordingly and to include the results.

Introduction: There is a few grammatical errors that can be fixed.

Data analysis: Please specify the types of analysis used.

Tables: These can be presented much better rather than seperate tables from direct outputs of statistical software.

Results: Do not start a sentence with a number. Please also the results are an emphasis of percentages and not numbers. Example 86 people had minimal anxiety. Avoid personalized sentences, such as As i mentioned earlier. The results section needs to be strengthened, and results need to match with statistical analysis.

Discussion: This needs to be mapped with literature published.

Overall the idea and concept is a strong topic, but there needs to be a major revision in data analysis and results.
