

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Inductively-Coupled Plasma

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Inductively-Coupled Plasma. NCI Thesaurus. Code C62345.

Plasma that is produced using a torch and a radio frequency (RF) generator, wherein flowing gases are introduced into the torch, the RF field is activated and the gas in the RF coil region is made electrically conductive.