Abstract

“almost all the green is gone” : It sounds alarmist and I think it’s imprecise. Try to be more parcimonous.

Sometimes you mention Brazil, others Amazon. I suggest you should be more precise in your focus. Its a proposal for Amazon only? Can it be used for others brazilian biomes?

Introduction

But you should consider that there is the use of fire intencionally to clear new forest forested areas.

“If anyone observes the Brazilian forest...”: better to say “amazonian forest”

“if they are just photographs...” ; I see a contradiction with your proposal. In the next phrase you mention the importance of visua arts.

If it is the case, you should say here that your proposal goes far than the fotos.

“This paper pretends so...”: You should use the verb “to intend”. “to pretend” is a false cognate in portuguese.

The matter of reforestation and it’s urgency

in the Brazilian area ; say simply “in Brazil”

“thousand kilometers square,” ; say thousand square kilometers,

“in the Carajá area”: say in the Carajás area

“Kilometers square : say square kilometers. Which area has 373.373 sq. Km? Carajás? Marabá now?

“Amazonical Forest”: say amazonian forest

“is on an up layer”? : You mean more to the north in the figure?

“ and as one can see, Marabá is in one of these dark pink areas.” ; say simply: where Marabá is located.

The Artwork and the Aesthetical Research

“back to normality”; say “back to a forested situation closer to the original one”

Historical and environmental Research

Change the word “bodies” for trunks

I expected to see lots and lots of trees planted, albeit virtual ones.
