

Review of: "Solving Pallet loading Problem with Real-World Constraints"

Tuğrul Bayraktar¹

¹ Karabuk University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The main idea is good

1. The literature is not strong enough and outdated. There are plenty of studies about pallet loading problem and a detailed comparison should be done to show the necessity of the proposed loading approach.
2. The problem with characteristics can be described in a more understandable way.
3. Clarify if there is difference between the brach and bound method used in this article and those used for solving the pallet loading problem in literature.
4. The language can be improved for more readable manuscript.