

Review of: "Measuring the Deviations from Perfect Competition: International Evidence"

Rabindranath Romero-López¹

¹ Universidad Veracruzana

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is well structured, the problem is clear, as is the introduction. It is a complete study that addresses information from 43 countries to evaluate macroeconomic behavior. The analyses are adequate and describe the results clearly.