

Review of: "Saltwater Intrusion in Coastal Aquifers: A Comprehensive Review and Case Studies from Egypt"

Hadi Allafta¹

¹ Phillips-Universität Marburg

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

While the topic (i.e., sea water intrusion into Egyptian coastal areas) is important, the article contains no data, no analysis, and no significant findings. The information provided on pages 1-11 is very general and can be found in related books.

The case studies from Egypt are only summarizing the findings of previous work.

This work could be considered for publication as a review, not an original article.

Best regards,