

Review of: "Ecotheology: missiological perspective in awareness"

Omar Javaid¹

¹ Institute of Business Management

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

That's a good paper, and I would say Islamic view also align with the same. I would suggest adding a small para which can suggest engaging the Muslim population of Indonesia as Islam also would suggest a similar view. This will help in generating a more collective response to the ecological collapse. Here are some papers which the authors can look into to see the matter from Islamic perspective:

https://link.springer.com/chapter/10.1007/978-981-16-6061-

0_2#:~:text=The%20circular%20economy%20model%20is,which%20is%20a%20legal%20maxim.

<https://journals.umt.edu.pk/index.php/JITC/article/view/2113>

<https://journals.iium.edu.my/al-fiqh/index.php/al-fiqh/article/view/210>

<https://www.springerprofessional.de/en/a-multi-layer-analysis-and-solution-for-climate-crisis-from-the-/19933136>