Title: Recognising Physical and Mental Health Issues in Neurodivergent Females: Opinion Piece.

I very much like the new version. It's clear and encapsulates the difficulties for neurodiverse women. Just some comments about it, in some parts it becomes a bit repetitive and It seems to me that the chapter "Challenges for the clinician" could be located in another part of the article to give it a better frame.

Overall it is a good article.

Good job to the writers.
