

Review of: "Research of Competitive Pressure on Undergraduates' Intention to Study Abroad in Chinese Non-elite Universities"

Dong Liu¹

¹ Yeungnam University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Your research significantly contributes to the empirical investigation into the pursuit of master's degrees by non-elite undergraduate graduates from mainland China, providing robust data support for study abroad agencies and overseas universities. This work establishes a critical foundation for a comprehensive understanding of this domain and sets the stage for further exploration.

While acknowledging the merits of your study, I would like to offer constructive suggestions to enhance the manuscript's quality:

Enrichment of the Literature Review Section: It is recommended to augment the literature review section by conducting a meticulous analysis of pertinent literature. A more thorough exploration will enable the comprehensive presentation of the current dynamics within the field, fostering a clearer understanding of the background and significance of your study among readers.

Clarity in Theoretical Framework: Emphasize the lucidity of your theoretical framework and its pivotal role in addressing the research questions. Clearly explicate the chosen theoretical foundation, illustrating its close alignment with the research questions and methodologies employed. This explicit articulation will facilitate a more profound comprehension of the logical structure underpinning your study.

Thank you for your invaluable contribution to the field. I eagerly anticipate witnessing the incorporation of these suggestions into your manuscript, thereby enhancing its academic rigor and impact.