Thank you so much for inviting me to review this interesting paper. I am sure the methodology and the size of the sample are a very strong support for the research interest posted in the name of the article proposal and their hypothesis. To complete the objective of the paper, I recommend the authors a more wide review of literature process in order to strengthen the hypothesis, discussion and conclusions. I am sure that a new version of the paper considering this, shall contribute to a remarkable contribution of the understanding the financial literacy and their role in the Sustainable Development of MSMEs in Africa. Congrats for this great effort. I will be waiting for that.
