

Review of: "Examining the Comparative Effect of the Built Environment on Crime Prevention in Plotted Development, Especially for Women's Safety at Both Hot and Cold Spots"

Behnaz Bahadori¹

¹ University of Tehran

Potential competing interests: This paper focuses on a comprehensive study of the impact of the built environment on women's safety in public spaces, particularly in the context of Gomti Nagar, India and is well structured. However, following revisions are required which would improve the quality of paper: 1. However, following revisions are required which would improve the quality of paper: Does the paper contain new and significant information adequate to justify publication? What is the theoretical gap of research? 2. Does the paper demonstrate an adequate understanding of the relevant literature in the field and cite an appropriate range of literature sources? Is any significant work ignored to your knowledge? This article should provide a suitable, up-to-date and relevant range of literary sources. 3. Is the paper's argument built on an appropriate base of theory, concepts, or other ideas? Has the research or equivalent intellectual work on which the paper is based been well designed Are the research methods employed appropriate? I believe that the authors will need to improve on this methodological scope and research question a little more. 4. The purpose and innovation of the research are not well defined. 5. What is the reason for choosing these effective parameters? In addition to the factors presented in the article, other factors should also be fully covered. 6. Are results presented clearly and analyzed appropriately? Do the conclusions adequately tie together the other elements of the paper? 7. Does the paper clearly express its case, measured against the technical language of the field and the expected knowledge of the journal's readership? Has attention been paid to the clarity of expression and readability, such as sentence structure, jargon use, acronyms, etc. There are some grammatical errors in the article that need to be fixed. 8. Implications for research, practice and/or society: Does the paper identify clearly any implications for research, practice and/or society? Does the paper bridge the gap between theory and practice? 9. Has the geographic weighted regression method been used in the current research to analyze hot and cold spots?

This paper focuses on a comprehensive study of the impact of the built environment on women's safety in public spaces, particularly in the context of Gomti Nagar, India and is well structured. However, following revisions are required which would improve the quality of paper:

1. However, following revisions are required which would improve the quality of paper: Does the paper contain new and significant information adequate to justify publication? What is the theoretical gap of research?
2. Does the paper demonstrate an adequate understanding of the relevant literature in the field and cite an appropriate range of literature sources? Is any significant work ignored to your knowledge? This article should provide a suitable, up-to-date and relevant range of literary sources.
3. Is the paper's argument built on an appropriate base of theory, concepts, or other ideas? Has the research or equivalent intellectual work on which the paper is based been well designed Are the research methods employed appropriate? I believe that the authors will need to improve on this methodological scope and research question a little more.
4. The purpose and innovation of the research are not well defined.
5. What is the reason for choosing these effective parameters? In addition to the factors presented in the article, other factors should also be fully covered.
6. Are results presented clearly and analyzed appropriately? Do the conclusions adequately tie together the other elements of the paper?
7. Does the paper clearly express its case, measured against the technical language of the field and the expected knowledge of the journal's readership? Has attention been paid to the clarity of expression and readability, such as sentence structure, jargon use, acronyms, etc. There are some grammatical errors in the article that need to be fixed.

8. Implications for research, practice and/or society: Does the paper identify clearly any implications for research, practice and/or society? Does the paper bridge the gap between theory and practice?

Has the geographic weighted regression method been used in the current research to analyze hot and cold spots?