Although this paper subject is interesting, it needs major revision. I suggest the author to read some papers to realize the framework and citations of paper.

1. There are a lot of typo mistakes and grammar errors in manuscript. The English editing need to be reviewed.
2. The citation in the paper is not similar. The author cited in different ways, check all citations, and revised them based on the journal requirements.
3. Please list the main contribution of your research in Introduction section, last paragraph.
4. Research in the complex needs more explanatory curves and depth in studying the subject.
5. Please list the superiority and drawbacks of your research in Discussion section. You should not list citation in Discussion section. Basically, Discussion section must focus on your findings, not listing citation.
6. Remove the citation listed in Conclusion Section.
7. Why did you cite in Reference section like this:
