

Review of: "Misdiagnosis of Dengue Fever as Malaria and Typhoid Fever and Their Co-infection in Rural Areas of Southwest Nigeria"

Neera Kapoor¹

¹ Indira Gandhi National Open University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The importance of this paper is because of the public health implications of undermining or misdiagnosis of dengue for malaria or typhoid, a situation which could endanger the health of the population because of the like progression of dengue fever to DSS, leading to death. Well-written article with specific objectives. Findings are well supported by tables and graphs. Adequate sample size is taken for the study. Suitable for publication in the journal.