

Review of: "Sharing Economy Practices in Changing Business Environment: Transaction Cost, Resource-Linking, and Hypercompetition Perspectives"

Martina Bosone¹

¹ Italian National Research Council

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I find this paper very interesting because it deals pragmatically with a subject that is too often only narrated in literature. I also greatly appreciate the wealth of theoretical and interpretative approaches used to interpret the phenomenon and to link the phenomenon of digital business with that of the sharing economy.

Since in the paper there are hints for elaborating a quanti-qualitative impact assessment (e.g. when it says "Go-Jek, a sharing economy startup that began with peer-to-peer online taxi bikes, has managed to acquire over 200,000 drivers in just 5 years", or when it talks about the economic disruption suffered by some companies), from my point of view, it would be appropriate to try to develop a set of indicators that would allow us to communicate in a concise manner what the benefits of the case study analysed were in comparison to other case studies and what were the areas of impact most affected (revenues, number of workers, environmental benefits, etc.).).

Otherwise, congratulations!