This mini-review is kept simple, the topic is interesting, but, in my opinion it should be modified before getting published. My suggestions are -1. The definitive data about incidence and prevalence should be mentioned so that disease burden is known to the readers.

2. The causative organisms for acute sinusitis should be mentioned. Knowing the organisms directly helps deciding the treating antibiotics.

3. The symptoms of the disease and evaluation is described vaguely, it should give precise and clear idea about the disease which is very much possible for a mini review too.
