

Review of: "Comparative Analysis of Teacher Professional Development Models in Indian Higher Education: Implications for NEP Implementation"

Nadia Shabnam<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> National University of Medical Sciences

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Thank you for offering me the opportunity to review this interesting article in its field. The authors have effectively provided a comprehensive overview of the subject and offered valuable perspectives on the significance of teacher professional development. There are still some suggestions which need to be incorporated:

1. Throughout the introduction, it seems as a summary of information from individual sources, lacking integration of the provided insights.
2. The literature review is overly concise, the methods employed are inadequately explained, lacking clarity on research questions and corresponding analysis.
3. The results and discussion are poorly articulated.
4. So, the recommendation is for major revision.