

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Substance-Induced Persisting Amnestic Disorder

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Substance-Induced Persisting Amnestic Disorder. NCI Thesaurus. Code C92643.

A disorder involving memory impairment (either anterograde or retrograde) that is etiologically linked to the persisting effects of substance use. The memory impairment persists beyond the usual duration of substance intoxication or withdrawal.