

Review of: "The Role of Green Legacy in Promoting Sustainable Development and Combating Climate Change"

Prof. Naglaa Fathy El Dessouky<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> University of Bahrain

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It is an interesting subject needs to be investigated in further research. The title is clear and inspiring, however it needs to be tightened in order to show the relationship between the dependent and independent variables of the study. The methodology fits the research objectives with a clear conceptual framework. Very interesting literature review, however a theoretical framework needs to be presented. The author succeeded to present the context of the study, nevertheless the conclusion and recommendations need further elaboration to reflect an action plan and empirical recommendations to be implemented by decision makers.