The study "Facility Management Challenges of Public Educational Facilities in Nigeria" is critical for enhancing the management of constructed facilities. However, the authors need to address the following major concerns:

1. The topic indicates the study is about general challenges of FM, but the paper focuses only on maintenance. I wonder if the authors will reconcile this difference by adjusting the title or updating the literature.
2. The paper reports a critical study reflecting a substantial effort; however, the article lacks a clear and structured approach to address this fascinating topic.
3. The research methodology is too shallow; the data collection and analysis methods should be justified. It might be helpful to have a flowchart or diagram outlining every stage of the study.
4. Several organizations are responsible for funding education in Nigeria apart from TETFund, e.g., State Governments, PTDF, etc. Please justify the reason for relying solely on TETFund.
5. The authors have presented several results without substantiating the possible reasons for obtaining such outcomes. It would be helpful if the authors could infer the possible reasons for this outcome.
6. The researchers did not outline their procedures to avoid potential mistakes during the data collection or analysis phases. Please describe the steps taken to guarantee that errors are reduced.
7. The discussion of the results is shallow and unrelated to the existing literature. Please update the discussion section and relates the findings to the literature.
