Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The article seems like a project report. The authors can restructure the Introduction as a standard research paper.
2. Literature review is drafted very well. But recent papers till 2023 can be discussed in the Introduction as well as in Literature Review.
3. The authors can develop a flowchart of research method for better understanding to the reader.
4. Limitations and future scope need to be highlighted at the end of conclusion
