Dear authors,

Here are my considerations for improving the paper. I hope they assist in enhancing your manuscript.

The introduction section should include more recent references to ensure that the review reflects the latest developments and research in the field.

The paper could benefit from a clearer description of the methods used for data extraction and analysis. Indicating whether multiple reviewers were involved in the selection and evaluation of the articles could eliminate potential bias and increase the reliability of the study.

As suggested by another reviewer, consolidating the results into a single table may improve the readability and accessibility of the data.

In the detailed discussion section - the lack of a detailed discussion section is a significant shortcoming, I encourage you to discuss the findings in more detail. A well-designed discussion can provide insight into the implications of the findings, relate them to existing research, and suggest directions for future studies.

Thank you
