

Review of: "Honorific Conception of Philosophy and Exclusionism in Nigeria"

E. C. Igbafe

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It is an interesting paper. I recommend it for publication. However, the authors could have reviewed and critically analyzed recent studies published by Nigerians to showcase how the exclusion impacts on Nigerians in academic, economic and political life. It was not stated if ethical clearance was obtained from the participants whose comments were used.