REVIEW

Integrating Community Service in Language Education: Fostering Social Change via Inclusive and Transformative Learning Experiences

Comment: The title sounds very interesting and impactful. Community service and social change are to words that are trending in research. However, the title should indicate the type of article it presents. This article is a concept paper type. Therefore, the title should indicate so.

ABSTRACT

The abstract should indicate the method/approach used to present the paper. For example, a conceptual paper should mention the approach and data used to present the arguments.

Introduction

The first paragraph contains too many main points without further elaboration. The author should elaborate the followings issues:

1. Language education
2. Teacher education
3. Learning experiences

Elaborating and discussing the problems in details can support the importance and significance of the argument.

Method

The method should be stated clearly in terms of approach used to generate themes. Also, it is necessary to explain about the "desktop research method" as it is not a common approach.

Result and Discussion

Avoid using the words "may" or "might" in this section. Findings should present about factual informations stated in previous study. After that, interpret and discuss each findings. In the present paper, the discussion is condensed into one paragraph. Try to discuss every findings that the paper presented.
