

Peer Review

Review of: "Prestige Matters: How Global Rankings Reshape Public Universities: National, Organisational, and Individual Dynamics in France"

Agnieszka Lekka-Kowalik¹

1. Philosophy, John Paul II Catholic University of Lublin, Lublin, Poland

I believe that it is an important paper that may inspire parallel research in other countries. It proves that rankings (or the position in a ranking) have become an academic "value". It has a rigorous methodology and carefully stated findings. Also, the bibliography is very instructive for anyone who investigates current changes in academia.

Declarations

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.