

Review of: "The Rural-Urban Divide: Insights from Immuno-Genetic Profiles and Implications for Health"

Natacha Cerny

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The work is very interesting but needs more information.

*The methodology should be better detailed and justified. For example, ELISA for IgE—which one? To what end? Why only IgE?

*I suggest that Figure 2 be modified by one of better quality, and it would be interesting if, in addition to indicating the cytokine profile evaluated, the cytokines that were taken into account in each case (Th1/Th2/Th3) could be mentioned.

*It would also be interesting to detail a little more about the characteristics of both populations in terms of customs, lifestyle, and mainly diet, since I believe that these are parameters that would give more relevance to the discussion presented in this work.