Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The abstract should be written in the following context: Background, objective(s), methods, results, conclusions, policy recommendations.
2. The study discussion is very generic and do not stem from study findings. It is suggested to rearrange discussion based on study findings.
3. Conclusions are very weak and miss several important dimensions. To strengthen the contents and quality of the study, conclusions must be revised for more clarity and for the ease of normal readers.
4. Study limitations should be provided along with future research directions for prospective scholars interested in the similar works.
5. It is also necessary to add some academic literature of the latest year 2020-21-22-23. Please read this research paper and it will be helpful.
