Retromandibular Vein

National Cancer Institute

Source

A vein formed by the joining of the internal maxillary vein and the temporal vein that runs along the ramus of the jaw and joins with the posterior auricular vein to form the external jugular vein and drain blood from the head and face.