

Review of: "Empowering Minds: The Evolution of Higher Education in Tamil Nadu towards Innovation and Excellence"

Wan Norhasniah Wan Husin¹

¹ National Defence University of Malaysia

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

DECISION ON MANUSCRIPT QEIOS, CC-BY 4.0

Empowering Minds: The Evolution of Higher Education in Tamil Nadu towards Innovation and Excellence

After reading the paper entitled, "Empowering Minds: The Evolution of Higher Education in Tamil Nadu towards Innovation and Excellence", I was able to draw some conclusions regarding the topic. Please refer to the comments as below.

1. This article merely puts forth a few suggestions regarding the reformation of higher education implementation in Tamil Nadu, without providing a compelling rationale for these matters. Furthermore, this presented argument unsupported from any credible sources.
2. This article lacks credible references, and most of them are from a website which reliability is questionable. An academic article should have clearly defined objectives, a well-structured methodology, a thorough discussion of the study's limitations, and a comprehensive analysis of the findings' significance for the country. Due to the lack of proper referencing, the arguments in this article are predominantly anecdotal and lack a discernible impact.

Based on the above remarks, I do not recommend this article to be published in this Journal.

Thank you