

Review of: "Flame Photometry: For the Determination of Alkali Metals in Commercially Sold Fireworks"

Magdalena Dr. Rusan¹

¹ Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität München

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear Authors,

Thank you for your interesting work. In the abstract and Introduction, you write potassium, sodium, etc. But it would be more accurate to write potassium salts, sodium salts, since in fireworks the elemental metals are not used. In the introduction, you write that the potassium and sodium salts released into the environment after fireworks cause health problems. Can you name the concentrations of the salts above which health problems arise? I think the health problems depend heavily on the concentrations.