Early Detection Research Network

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Early Detection Research Network. NCI Thesaurus. Code C19265.

Established by NCI to identify and evaluate molecular biomarkers and technologies for earlier detection and risk assessment of all major cancers. The EDRN is a national network of academic and industry investigators with expertise in laboratory and clinical sciences, biostatistics, informatics, and public health.