1. it is a useful and interesting review manuscript. However, some inputs are needed.
2. Introduction: you should include one subchapter, where you give the detailed motivation for writing this review. Are there similar review papers? If yes, what is missing there and what your review will add value?
3. Table 1: please add one column with references. Moreover, I could not see citation of this table in the text.
4. Methods: we are in 2023. Your data are up to 2018. Please consider updating your data to at least 2022.
5. Please check and correct your citations, especially the indirect ones.
6. The description of your results does not match your specific aim. Your "real" review results are described in your "discussion" chapter. It is suggested to combine them as "Results and Discussion" chapter.
