

Review of: "[Perspective] The possibility of a silent methamphetamine catastrophe in Bangladesh"

Asha S. Ripanda¹

¹ The Nelson Mandela African Institute of Science and Technology

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The work is well-written, and effectively highlights the methamphetamine crisis in Bangladesh. However, it could be enhanced by providing more context (linking the meth use in Bangladesh vs. global status), specific policy recommendations, and ensuring the inclusion of the latest information on the issue.