

Review of: "Toxicological evaluation of aqueous extracts of Clematis hirsuta and Rhamnus prinoides"

Shadrack Donkor

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper is okay but there are portions I have highlighted which the authors need to work on to make it a better paper before it should be accepted for publication. My major issue is on the discussion. The authors did not discuss the discrepancies and anomalies in the haematological and biochemistry data. The discussion is not all that strong in its current state and they try and improve it.