The author presented the manuscript in a well-planned way. The title "The Role of Green Legacy in Promoting Sustainable Development and Combating Climate Change" matches perfectly with the literature and discussion of the paper. However, there are some areas that should be considered. The Abstract of the manuscript should be shorter in length. The introduction part can be more specific. The conclusion part can be written in a more concise way relating to the main scope of this study. Figures and tables may be presented in a more organized way. Some sophisticated statistical analysis can easily be added here. The introduction part can be presented in a more precise way. Overall, it would be a good piece of work if the above-mentioned issues are taken care of.
