Dear author

I really liked your work, congratulations. I suggest some adjustments to improve it.

- In the Abstract I suggest to mention examples of purposes and diseases for what the plant is used (such as leukoderma, elephantiasis, diarrhoea, cough, discoloration of hair, and rectalgia);
- Make a detailed writing review;
- Which methodology did you use to carry out the research? I suggest mention it;
- Take advantage of Table 1 to mention the therapeutic properties of each chemical constituent, this information brings reliability to your work.
- Is there information on the domestication of this species, or information on the potential for commercial cultivation? This type of information is valuable for the pharmaceutical industry.

I hope I have helped.

Wishing you all the best.
