

Review of: "Hospital's Thermo-neutral Zone for Patient Safety and Climate Change Sustainability"

Rafid M. Hannun

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper is good in knowledge, but I see it has many notes to be further quality:

- 1- There are some grammar and language mistakes, such as (the degree on C for the degree centigrade is not found in many places in paragraphs and figures).
- 2- It requires arrangement of the methodology of the paper and technical writing.
- 3- The Iraq weather is not similar to that of Gulf countries, as mentioned in the manuscript.
- 4- The objectives and aims of the study are not put in one paragraph and need more arrangement.
- 5- There is no theoretical analysis.
- 6- The conclusions need to be highlighted in the paper.