

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Dysmorphism-conductive hearing loss-heart defect syndrome

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Dysmorphism-conductive hearing loss-heart defect syndrome. ORPHA:289553

#64258;at nares, Cupid's bow upper lip vermillion, and small, low-set, posteriorly rotated ears), in addition to cleft palate, conductive hearing loss, heart defects (atrial or ventricular septal defect) and mild developmental delay/intellectual disability.