My comments are as follows:

It could be published after major revision.

- In the Introduction, I found that "some cases are very complicated, and some sentences should be checked in grammar.
- The Material and Methods section is good for arrangement. In the three-point bending test, please add a symbol for the maximum ultimate stress.
- In Results and Discussion, all figures describe is complicated and unsatisfactory for publication.
- Figures 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 should be correctly repaired and redrawn with data labels, axes, and other necessities. On the X-axis, please definitely show PP or PET values.
- Numerical values describe definitely decimal numbers (e.g., 15.8, not satisfied).
- Should correct writing (15.8).
- This title and research data are consistent in this paper.
