

Review of: "Causality in Machine Learning: Innovating Model Generalization through Inference of Causal Relationships from Observational Data"

Danial Armaghani<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> University of Technology Sydney

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This is an interesting study, and its results are in line with those published in the literature. I have a suggestion for more explanations regarding model construction and how to find model hyper-parameters or any effective parameters involved.