In abstract is needed to insert results with statistical analyses. The keywords would be follow the international descriptors of health. Introduction should be 4 or 5 paragraphs with the last one describing the study's objective. The figure 1 should be insert in methodology. Some text of the introduction should be insert in discussion. The text is extensive and can be reduced. The literature review part can be displaced to the discussion Or the authors should be write a review study with the information. The conclusion is extensive. In general we use 2 paragraphs. I suggest in the last paragraph of the discussion insert information on limiting factors of the study and what the study contributes to the literature. The theme of the article is quite pertinent and interesting. I suggest some changes in the structuring of the article in order to be more objective and clear to readers. In fact, the content would be able to divide the text into 2 articles: one review and another original. The results are pertinent and contribute to the literature
