Review of: "Enhancing Academic Speaking Skills: An Immersive Virtual World Approach"

Eyasu Yaya Sada

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In fact, the paper provides a detailed picture of how speaking abilities are used in the virtual world overall. Additionally, the study is overly tense and contains an excessive amount of irrelevant facts and information for the reader. The author provides far too much detail without any concrete examples. I advise focusing more on the subject and summarizing the key elements. The research portion is also excellent, however it requires improvement because it is overly drawn out and rather perplexing.

Finally, I recommend revising the major section by possibly summarizing or excluding unimportant facts and information that are not directly relevant to the subject.