Dear author

I appreciate your contribution to the world of science and I can see that you have done a great job so I congratulate you.

On the other hand, the only thing I want to make sure is with the following

Literature review

You must always speak in the third person and specifically, in the 50th paragraph, modify the phrase "In this study, we guess some specific governmental interventions were associated with psychological well-beings" and you must add "In this study, it is assumed that some specific government interventions were associated with psychological well-being".
