

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Progesterone Secretion Process

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Progesterone Secretion Process. NCI Thesaurus. Code C41499.

Progesterone Secretion consists of the activities involved in release into the bloodstream by the corpus luteum and placenta of a steroid estrogen antagonist (progesterone) that prevents follicular development and promotes proliferation of uterine mucosa and blastocyst implantation. Alteration of positive or negative feedback mechanisms can affect hormone release.