

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Papular mucinosis of infancy

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base. Papular mucinosis of infancy. ORPHA:90395

Papular mucinosis of infancy is a rare pediatric non progressive form of localized lichen myxedematosus (see this term) characterized by the development of firm opalescent mucinous papules on the upper arms and the trunk.