

Review of: "Generating Smart Goals of Engineering Education Institutes in the Fast-Developing Countries"

Dr. Navneesh Tyagi¹

¹ Shobhit University, Meerut

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Congratulations to the author for publishing the preprint article that is focusing on enhancing national education, particularly in the field of engineering. I would like to offers some suggestions for improvement in this article. At various places it get deflected from the main purpose therefore try to maintain the theme and right flow of your article throughout. Source of tables is not mentioned. The introduction must explain the rationale of the study. It need to be strengthened with a narrative that originates in the data and earlier research findings. Reliability and validity should be checked in questionnaire and the bases upon which it is framed should be explained. It is necessary to add relevant and upto date research. I would advise to recheck your objectives in line with the Discussion, Recommendation, and Conclusion.

Finally, kudos for your efforts! All the best for your final the manuscript.