Simple but interesting paper. I enjoyed it. I know that with the pandemic, many governments implemented food policies, but I haven't seen evidence of people's response in terms of food consumption during the outbreak.

I have the following recommendations to improve the paper:

- Some parts of the abstract and introduction are very general.
- Revise reference style of citing.
- Provide more information about the sampling process.
- Re-organize table 1 according to the ranking.
- Results section sometimes is very descriptive, a little more of analysis would help.
- Table 3 and figure 5 present the same information.
- On page 7, it should say Fig. 4
