

Review of: "Sustainable Agriculture and Climate Resilience in Türkiye: A Comprehensive Analysis"

Fallad Jalil¹

¹ Universidad de Guadalajara

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The content of this paper is an overview of literature review with a local (Turkey) emphasis. Its concentrate on rice and wheat historical information.

It is as the author said, a theoretical review.

Things that are missing are the social and cultural effects in terms of life's quality of the farmers and its family. Also, what are the ecological effects of the agricultural work on sustainability policy established by the Turkey Government.

The paper can be considered a good start, but it needs to present more case studies where farmers share their point of view about this issue in order to enrich the content of the paper.