

Review of: "Promoting Pro-Environmental Behavior for Sustainable Water Resource Management: A Social Exchange Perspective"

Xinkui Wu

Potential competing interests: non-financial interests to disclose

I found this paper to be very interesting and covering a very important topic. The structure and content of the whole paper was excellently organized and provided valuable insights. There are some pointed improvements in this paper:

1. A combination of graphics and text can show your ideas and research results more vividly.
2. It does not mention specific research data or results. It only states the use of a "rigorous documentary research method" without elaborating on findings.
3. Please improve literature citations, with a specific focus on recent articles related to sustainable water resource management.
4. The author did not mention the future direction of sustainable water resource management.